DURHAM LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

HOME OFFICE

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

ALL MODERN AND APPROVED FORMS OF

ORDINARY and INDUSTRIAL

INSURANCE

Over a Quarter Million policies in force on the lives of native Carolinians and thirty years of friendly and efficient service.

"WE PROTECT THE FAMILY"

OFFICERS

SILAS B. COLEY	President
D. L. COZART	Secretary
J. R. WEATHERSPOON	Treasurer
E. T. BURR	Actuary

We have a policy for every need and purpose, for any amount, for every member of the family.

A JEFFERSON STANDARD POLICY IS A DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE FOR THE FAMILY

MORE than 40,000 North Carolinians own Jefferson Standard life insurance. Each year more people buy regular ordinary life insurance from the Jefferson Standard than from any other company doing business in the State.

These eloquent facts are a result of the high regard in which the Company is held by the people in its Home State and because they know the value of placing their insurance with a strong home institution where North Carolina money is kept working in North Carolina for North Carolinians.

Foreword—

The thirty-seventh year of the North Carolina Year Book is issued at a period of growth, expansion and faith in the Commonwealth of North Carolina. It was conceived thirty-seven years ago to fill what was truly "a long-felt want." There was no compilation extant of the information which business and professional men, public officials and others needed for frequent use. For instance, if a lawyer in Raleigh desired to know the name and address of the Sheriff of Cherokee County he had to seek that information from the State Treasury Department. If there was need to know the pastor of the Baptist Church in Edenton, access must be had to the records of that church and they were not always complete; or of the size of the debts of the State and counties and cities; or if political and other statistics was sought, it was necessary to ransack many sources for the information. To supply this need, and to be a vade mecum for North Carolina, the Year Book was established. It has become an instituton of increasing value and use. Almost every important fact about North Carolina of today is found between its pages. It is designed to be kept at hand for daily use. It is gratifying that The News and Observer, among its other contributions to the State it serves, has been able to fill a niche that is needed more and more. The ambition of the publishers of The News and Observer is to keep pace with the progress of North Carolina. As it has grown, the circulation of The News and Observer has grown. When I became editor, its circulation in 1894 was 2,500. Today it has reached nearly 55,000. The Year Book is an annual additional service to the State. When a better paper is needed, or a better Year Book, The News and Observer will furnish it.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS.

Raleigh As A Distributing And Trade Center

Extends Invitation to Distributors

Logically situated to serve economically a wide area, with ease of access to the industrial Piedmont and to the agricultural east. Seventy-two wholesale establishments do an annual business of approximately $22,000,000. A favored location in North Carolina for branch distributing plants.

Raleigh merits well deserved patronage as a shopping center. The territory served has a population of fully two hundred thousand with the annual retail trade volume reaching $18,313,000 for 1935.

Many modern office buildings combined with Raleigh's central location makes it an ideal place for state sales agencies. It is already a city of considerable importance in this particular.

Estimated on the 1930 census figures the population growth, if maintained on the same basis to 1940, should be 60,000.

Information Gladly Given.

LOUISBURG COLLEGE

A Co-Educational, Junior College of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South

Outstanding Among Junior Colleges in State and South in the Following Points:

1. Self-Help or Duty Work Program: Makes it possible for every worthy student attending to obtain some form of self-help work; and operates its self-help program so that concrete educational values are obtained, including such values as a sense of time and money; value of work; personal integrity and responsibility.
2. Well-Rounded and Complete Course of Study: Offers courses in Industrial Arts, a subject rarely found in any junior college; Home Economics; Agriculture; Art; Music; and the usual Liberal Arts and Science Courses.
3. Individual Attention to Students: Only in smaller colleges is real attention to each student possible, and Louisburg College constantly strives to assist in every way in the solution of the problems presented by each individual student. With one teacher for every twenty students this can be accomplished.
4. Well-Equipped and Trained Faculty: Many of the teachers have their master's degree and several their doctorates, and all are selected on the basis of experience and Christian character.

What to See In Raleigh

THE STATE CAPITAL OF NORTH CAROLINA

As a center for tourists during the winter months, Raleigh, with municipal owned airport, stop-over point for passenger planes from North to South, located at the forks of two national highways, has become a city of prime importance. Some indication of this is reflected in the hotel registration, which averages from 40,000 to 50,000 during the winter months. The city abounds in historic traditions and the thousands of visitors enjoy the following places of interest:

Historic old State Capitol Building, famous for the beauty of its architecture.

Memorial Auditorium.

State Museum and Temporary State Art Museum.

State Hall of History.

Four famous colleges: Unit of University of North Carolina (State College of Agriculture and Engineering), Meredith College, Peace Junior College and St. Mary's School for Girls.

President Andrew Johnson's Birthplace (in Pullen Park, Raleigh's Recreational Center, near State College).

Four points of special beauty: Christ Church, Dix Hill, Country Club, Federal Cemetery.

Carolina Pines, a well-known recreational center, located 2 miles south of Raleigh on Federal Highway 15-A.

The Governor's Mansion and Grounds.

Public Libraries: State Library, Raney Library (with Children's section). Open to public all day.

Institutions for Negroes: Shaw University and St. Augustine's College.

Monuments and public memorials on Capitol Square and in State Department buildings include a replica of Houdon's famous statue of George Washington and memorials to several famous North Carolinians, which will prove interesting to Raleigh Visitors.

Any information desired about Raleigh will be cheerfully given by

The Chamber of Commerce

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

Population of North Carolina

The population of North Carolina on April 1, 1930, according to the Fifteenth Census, was 3,170,276, which represents an increase of 611,153, or 23.9 per cent. as compared with the population of January 1, 1920. Democratic State Platform—1936

When the Democracy of North Carolina assembled in convention four years ago, the most devastating depression in the history of the republic was raging with increasing fury.

Millions of jobless men were tramping the streets of our cities in black despair. Agricultural products were selling at ruinous prices and farm mortgages were being foreclosed on a wholesale scale. Our foreign trade had languished to the point of almost virtual extinction. Thousands of factories were closed. A paralyzed retail trade was forcing hundreds of merchants each month into bankruptcy.

Republican leadership was utterly incapable of mastering the very conditions which long years of Republican misrule had created. It talked with counterfeit cheerfulness about imminent recovery while it toyed ineffectually with the grave problems. The situation grew steadily worse. Despair settled more deeply over the nation.

Today—four years later—the Democracy of North Carolina assembles in convention under happier circumstances. Where once there was only universal anxiety, now there is confidence. The depression has been conquered.

The army of the jobless is being demobilized into gainful employment. The wheels of industry now turn in profitable production. The banks of the nation are now in unprecedently sound condition. The farmer can now plant in the assurance that he will receive a fair price for his crop. The Nation—the same nation that four years ago was overwhelmed with despondency—now smiles as it goes happily about the tasks of the day.

This amazing change is not the result of chance. It is the natural and predestined consequence of a Democratic administration and of Democratic policies.

When the Democratic party was voted into power by the most decisive majority ever given any party since 1824, it was commissioned by the American people to do two specific tasks; to end the depression and to make such reforms in the economic order as would render a repetition of the panic most remote.

In the person of Franklin Delano Roosevelt the Democratic party found the leader which the nation sought. He had the vision, the courage and the elevated and practical conception on governmental responsibility for which the grave situation called.

When his firm hands settled upon the reins of Presidential power, change quickly manifested itself. He did not trust to Pollyanna assurances that all would be well in the fullness of time. Facing the facts realistically, he set the mighty machinery of the federal government to work in ending the depression. His intelligent understanding conceived remedies which his indomitable energy and fearlessness quickly and effectively applied.

Where there was once only futile fumbling, now there was constructive action. The banks of the country were speedily and effectively restored to impregnable soundness. Additional employment was created by the effective device of shortening hours while wages which were being remorselessly driven down to starvation levels were started on a definite and irresistible upward surge. The full resources of the nation were employed in reviving a tragically prostrated agriculture. To those in want was given the promise that they would be fed and housed and clothed—a promise that has been scrupulously kept. Industry was primed with a far-reaching public works program which provided needed public improvement while creating employment for the jobless and an immediate demand for durable goods.

The happy result is that while business profits declined 75 per cent under President Hoover, they have risen 100 per cent under President Roosevelt. The nation has been pulled out of the abyss of the depression and is now traveling irresistably toward abounding prosperity.

It was not enough to end this depression. A recurrence must be prevented. Man-made conditions produced the panic. These causative conditions had to be changed.

Under the Democratic administration, reform has marched with recovery. Legislation of far-reaching character has been enacted to protect human rights, to provide social security for the aged and jobless, to safeguard small investors and depositors, to prevent perilous speculation and to insure a fairer distribution of the fruits of industry. While legtitimate and useful business has been accorded every proper encouragement, the welfare of the individual has been exalted above private profits. In no similar period of American history has so much legislation of such beneficial import to the average man been passed.

All this has been achieved without impairing or straining the national credit. The government has been able to refinance its outstanding indebtedness incurred during the World War at heavy interest savings and its lowest yield bonds are selling at a premium. The national debt has been increased in the same percentage as the national wealth has risen during the Roosevelt administration. Today the United States owes less in proportion to its national assets than it did when Herbert Hoover left the White House.

Proud as it is of its party's record in the conduct of the nation's affairs, the Democracy of North Carolina is equally proud of its record in the administration of the State's affairs.

When the Democratic party under the inspired leadership of the immortal Aycock rescued the State from Republican rule, North Carolina stood low among the states of the South in economic, educational and social advancement.

All this has been changed. Today North Carolina is in fact and in truth the empire State of the Southeast. Today it ranks first among the Southeastern States in the value of agricultural crops, in the value of manufactured products and in retail store sales. Great as has been its economic progress, still more marked has been its social and educational progress.

These truly miraculous changes are not the casual consequences of chance. They are the natural results of the far-sighted, prudent, efficient and social-minded administration which the Democratic party has given to the State's affairs.

The Democratic party has not been content to rule the State. It has been more interested in developing the State and in promoting the well-being of all of its people.

It has always recognized that the primary obligations of every State is to conserve and to develop human values. Cradled in the principles of Thomas Jefferson, it has held steadfastly to the fundamental Democratic creed of equal rights to all and special provileges to none.

The business of North Carolina is agriculture. Thousands of our citizens are dependent upon farming for their livelihood. For agriculture the Democratic party has always had a sympathetic and helpful interest. Through appropriate legislative action and departmental direction, the State has sought in every way to promote agricultural progress. It is not without significance that North Carolina outranks every State in the Southeast in the value of its farm products—a progress that has come only with Democratic control and assistance.

The Democratic party is keenly sensible of the fact that despite all of this advancement, the farmer still does not command his proper share of the nation's prosperity. The Democracy of North Carolina pledges itself that it will exert all appropriate cooperation that gives reasonable promise of promoting the economic well-being of the rural population of North Carolina.

We favor State and interstate control of crop production, through compact legislation in order to assure parity prices to farmers for their products.

In this connection a word as to the highway system is in order. The State of North Carolina, with the aid of the Federal Government, has built a magnificent system of highways at a cost of more than two hundred million dollars. This is the State's largest investment. The Democratic party recognizes the responsibility of adequate maintenance of these highways and of progressive improvement of local roads serving our rural communities. Highway funds should be so conserved and expended as to promote these objectives. The rapidly increasing gasoline taxes justify a further reduction in automobile license taxes by the next General Assembly.

In these days of a highly industralized civilization, no state can hope to become prosperous unless it has lawful and just encouragement for legitimate industry. Manufacturing enterprises are necessary to afford employment, to create a local market for farm produce, and to provide tax support for government.

The Democratic party has been fully appreciative of the policy of the frank recognition of the rights of labor to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, as advocated by President Roosevelt, and the policy of a broader distribution of employment as a means to a satisfactory and sustaining progress of industrial development and a more wholesome industrial life in this State.

We oppose any and all forms of intimidation and coercion against either worker or employer and urge the enactment of State and interstate laws to promote the betterment of working conditions, wherever such compacts are practicable, and the passage of humanitarian laws, wherever practicable, to afford further protection to women and children in regard to maximum hours and working conditions.

The wisdom of the Democratic policy is established by the industrial progress of the State which has come with the successive Democratic administrations and which is the marvel of the nation.

When the Democratic Party under the leadership of Aycock committed itself to the fullest extension of the principle of universal education, the real impetus to North Carolina's growth was given. Then a building program was launched which commanded the admiration of the nation and which in time brought schools to every section, however isolated, in North Carolina. School terms were gradually lengthened, the type of instruction was improved, compulsory education was adopted. In 1931 the State assumed the responsibility for the operation of a six-months term of school. In 1933 the State lengthened the school term for which it is responsible, to eight months.

Last year approximately 68 cents out of every dollar that was collected into the general fund of the State was appropriated to the public schools and to higher educational institutions. No State in the Union devotes to education such a large ratio of its tax receipts. This is the most convincing proof of the true emphasis that the Democratic party places on education.

The Democratic conduct of the State's affairs has always been economical, honest and efficient. Only five cents out of the State tax dollar goes for the payment of departmental expenses. Some states disburse a larger percentage than that for tax collection costs exclusively. In all the long years of Democratic control, no scandal has ever involved any State official. Perhaps this cannot be said of any other State.

Particularly praiseworthy has been the conduct of the State's finances by the present Democratic administration under the leadership of Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus. It has established a fiscal record which should be a source of pride to every North Carolinian and which is unequalled in the Nation. Called upon to operate the State at a time of profound economic depression, it has met the grave problems with courage and wisdom.

It has steadily kept operating expenses within operating revenues.

It has financed the State without borrowing a single dollar.

It has met all of its bills punctually. Employees have been paid.

It has actually reduced the State's aggregate indebtedness by approximately $24,000,000.

Today North Carolina's credit stands as high as that of any State in the Union.

All this has been achieved while land taxes were being steadily reduced and the State was assuming governmental costs formerly borne by the local communities.

When the General Assembly of 1933 convened, it found itself faced with a critical situation. The State had a large accumulated deficit and further borrowings were impossible. The school system was threatened with collapse. Land taxes were impossible of collection due to the profound prostration of agriculture resulting from the Republican panic.

The General Assembly wisely resolved that the essential services of the State government must be maintained at any cost and that the schools must be kept open.

The State in that emergency determined to assume the full financial responsibility for the operation of an eight months school term in every community in North Carolina. This meant relief to the cities and counties, but added expense to the State government.

For many weary weeks of thorough exploration and honest discussion, the General Assembly sought the added revenues required by this far-reaching policy. As a last resort and as a temporary expedient, it adopted the sales tax, devoted the entire proceeds of this levy to the schools.

The situation was saved. Not a single school in North Carolina has closed its doors. Not a single teacher has gone unpaid. Of no other State in the Union—save only Maryland—can this be said.

This desperate situation required a desperate remedy. The cure was effective.

The Democratic Party is appreciative today as it had been for forty years of the importance of the public schools and it takes pride in the fact that the school program as it has now been established is supported by the entire State without resorting to a tax on the homes and farms of our people.

The Democratic Party appreciates the extraordinarily valuable services of its teachers. It rejoices in the fact that every teacher has been paid in lawful currency exactly what the State pledged itself to pay. It observes with gratification that the 1935 General Assembly was able to increase the salaries of all teachers.

The party renews its pledge to the people of the State to maintain an eight months' school term for every child, supported by dependable revenue, without resorting to an ad valorem tax on the land and homes of our people. It pledges itself to make a resonable increase in a full school program, looking to the payment of all teachers of salaries in line with the vital importance of their services and looking also to the broadening of courses in vocational education and to an extension of the system of State rented school books to a system of free school books as speedily as the State revenue will permit.

Economic improvement will now permit the immediate elimination of the sales tax levy on all necessities of life and on meals at boarding houses, and all public eating places and hotels. The Democratic party pledges itself to accomplish this at the 1937 session of the General Assembly.

Since the Democratic party pledges itself to the fullest practicable participation to the social security program of the national administration, it cannot pledge itself to the complete elimination of the sales tax at this time, the schools must be maintained and improved. Money to finance old age pensions and other features of the social security program must be found to the limits of the State's ability to do this. But the Democratic party bears strongly in mind the fact that the sales tax was adopted by the General Assembly only as an emergency measure. The Democratic party accepts this as a party pledge.

The Democratic party records with genuine pleasure the significant fact that the per capita property tax in North Carolina for all governmental purposes is lower than that on any State in the Union. This has been made possible by the fact that the State has assumed the complete responsibility for the construction and maintenance of highways and for the operation of the eight months school term.

The Democratic party notes with equal gratification the fact that business is not escaping the proper share of governmental costs in North Carolina.

Only four other states of the Union levy a higher corporation franchise tax. Only one other State levies a higher corporation income tax. In aggregate corporate taxes, North Carolina is outranked only by one State.

The Democratic party does not apologize for these high corporate taxes. It regards them as necessary and just. At the same time, it recognizes the inescapable truth that industry must not be driven from the State or repelled at our borders by punitive taxes.

The Democrats of North Carolina have observed with pride the growing prestige of North Carolina's delegation in the National Congress and this convention hereby puts on record its warm appreciation of the services which the State's Senators and Representatives are rendering at Washington.

The democracy of North Carolina is in full and constant sympathy with the great objectives of the Roosevelt administration and with the principles that animate and direct them. We pledge ourselves to continuing cooperation with the President and the Congress.

Upon this plain record of progress and achievement the democracy of North Carolina in convention assembled hereby heartily endorses the National and State Democratic administrations. Since the beginning of recorded time there has been a struggle between entrenched wealth on the one side and the toiling masses on the other—between the reactionary and the liberal. Never were these lines more clearly drawn than at this hour. The Democratic party of North Carolina, therefore, cordially invites peoples of all creeds and of all party affiliations to enroll under the ample banner of equality of opportunity for rich and poor alike.

Republican State Platform—1936

The Republican Party of North Carolina, in convention duly assembled at Raleigh, March 24, 1936, declares the following principles and purposes as those upon which its purposes to go before the people of the State in the next general election, with the unqualified pledge that when entrusted with power it will enact the necessary laws and administer the affairs of the State in the manner to effectuate these ends:

We reaffirm our allegiance to the time-honored and progressive principles of the Republican party of the Nation, and demand:

1. That governmental expenditures be drastically reduced; the National budget balanced; the National credit maintained; and the currency be stabilized.

2. That punitive and confiscatory tax laws which now harrass business, retard recovery and promote wasteful and reckless expenditures, be repealed.

3. We hereby condemn the efforts of the present administration to restrict and destroy agricultural production, to regiment industrial groups, to curtail personal liberty, to destroy free speech and to close the courts of the local community to aggrieved persons by unlawful and unconstitutional enactments.

4. That the courts of the United States shall continue to exist as a free, independent and separate branch of our national government, as designed by our forefathers in the Constitution of the country, and that their functions shall remain free from political or other partisan considerations, both in the appointment of the judges and the exercise of their proper jurisdiction, to the end that the humblest in our land may be secure in their personal rights, opportunities, property, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

5. That all unnecessary bureaus, commissions and governmental agencies, designed to dictate, control and supplant business and other enterprises, and engaged in reckless and wasteful expenditures of the people's money, shall be abolished.

6. That local and State responsibility for relief and the administration of relief funds shall be recognized; the partisan and wasteful methodis now in common use shall be abandoned; the horde of unnecessary highly paid officials shall be removed from office and that a system of non-partisan, efficient and local administration, of all relief activities be substituted for the present expensive, extravagant and partisan setup.

We demand that the educational system of North Carolina both in the higher and lower branches, be removed absolutely from the field of politics. That the professors, teachers and instructors in the local schools, colleges and University of the State, shall be selected solely upon merit. That all unnecessary expenses connected with the general administration of the educational system of the State be eliminated, and that the pay of teachers and others actually engaged in instruction of pupils be increased as rapidly as the resources of the State treasury will permit, and until the same is adequate, and to that end we further demand that a special salary fund be allocated by the Legislature to be used exclusively for payment of public school teachers' salaries. That an efficient system of promotion of teachers be adopted in order that those best qualified and rendering best services in the way of instruction shall be rewarded for their superior qualifications. That the system of transportation by means of busses be safeguarded and improved in every possible way regardless of some extra costs, and that free uniform textbooks be furnished all public school children.

Honest election laws, honestly and fairly administered, are absolutely necessary for the preservation of free government. We demand that the minority party be given equal representation in every precinct by the appointment of a registrar for each political party; frequent revision of the list of registered voters, fair representation of the minority party upon all returning boards, repeal of the absentee voters law, removal of the compulsory features of the primary law and provision for each party to pay for such primary elections as its duly constituted authorities demand.

We condemn the action of the legislative branch of the State government for the passage of so-called liquor control laws for several counties of the State. We demand strict, impartial and effective enforcement of the prohibition laws of the State.

We demand that all the criminal laws of the State shall be enforced, that society shall receive protection to the utmost degree from that element among us inclined by criminal, dishonest and corrupt methods to prey upon the law-abiding people of our State. That adequate sentences be imposed on all persons convicted of crime to prevent repetition, and that this undesirable class be brought to realize crime does not pay in this State. That adequate provisions be made for the reformation, segregation and rehabilitation, in proper cases, in a scientific and humane way, of those punished for crime and confined in penal institutions of the State. That the labor of all prisoners be restricted as far as possible from competition with free labor and that all prisoners be employed regularly in the development and improvement of public highways and other enterprises beneficial to the people generally.

We deplore the reckless manner in which the expensive highway system of the State is being destroyed by subjection to excessive loads of commercial products transported at excessive and unlawful speed to the great danger and expense of the public. Our highways were not intended for use as railroads. We deplore the expense for repairs of the highways subjected to this use and abuse, which they were never designed to endure, and to the profit of private individuals.

We believe that capital is entitled to a just return on investments. That labor is worthy of a hire commensurate with our American standards of living and sufficient to maintain the dignity and honor of all labor, whether performed in factory or on farm, and that the right to organize and bargain collectively and as an individual, shall not be denied to any citizen who toils.

We demand the enactment by the State of North Carolina of an old age pension law setting up a system of protection for the indigent-aged and infirm, to apply equally to all of such citizens regardless of the vocation followed by such citizens during the productive period of life.

We demand that all useless offices and agencies existing in the State be abolished. That a rigid and effective policy of economy be inaugurated, that the amount of expensive salaries be reduced to a minimum, that local self government be re-established in the several counties of the State, and local business of the communities be transacted without bothersome State department interference. We demand that savings thus effected and otherwise possible be used in the first instance to abolish the general sales and other nuisance taxes, that the tax on automobile license plates be reduced to a maximum amount of $4.00 per year on the ilghtest cars and that the burden of taxation generally shall be removed from the long suffering tax payers to the greatest extent possible without destroying the efficiency and effectiveness of our State, educational, charitable and other institutions.

If elected to power we pledge the Republican party to place all employees of the State, including public school teachers, except laborers and those holding executive positions, in the classified civil service. This will not only make for efficiency and reduce cost of government, but it will free State employees from the baleful influence of professional politicians.

The time is now here for this country to extend the same measure of protection to agriculture as is extended to industry under the great American system of protection. Agriculture does not need temporary relief. It needs a permanent constructive policy that will do justice and enable the farmer to make a fair profit, and sell his products to the consumer at a price that will reduce the cost of living and at the same time will enable America to recover its lost foreign markets for our great staple agricultural products.
